

Pocket Reduction- with future composite splinting

Background: RL was anxious to save his teeth. He was not prepared to invest in full upper and lower implants as he had been advised by another dentist. As a result, all of his teeth were saved and budget-conscious procedures were performed to lengthen the lifespan of his teeth. RL's case is unique because normally, many of these teeth would have been extracted and replaced with implants.

Testimonial: "I considerate myself very fortunate to have met Dr. K when I did. Other dentists had advised there was nothing else to do but to pull all of my teeth and replace them with implants. This all took place approximately three years ago when I was also going through some pretty tough times in my life, when it seemed like I couldn't bear another thing to go wrong.

Dr. K took a look at my X-rays and thought maybe he could save my teeth. I made the appointment and he started the work. Within a couple of months the transformation was unbelievable. Not only did he save my teeth, but he also made me want to smile again. Friends and family just couldn't believe the difference.

I have since moved to Florida but will be returning in August for a visit, and one of my first trips will be to see Dr. K. I would recommend him to all of my family and friends. He is not only a great dentist, but also a kind and considerate person. " RL- Mt. Laurel, NJ
